SEBI has zero tolerance for RPT violations, will levy fines on directors and compliance officials alike

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) has a zero-tolerance policy on related party transaction (RPT) violations. Not just that, the kind of orders being passed of late against compliance officers is far-reaching. The Bombay Chamber of Commerce & Industry has learnt that SEBI is not only passing orders and levying fines on compliance officers but also writing to the Institute of Company Secretaries of India to take disciplinary action against the member.

Related Party Transactions (RPTs)

Related Party Transactions (RPTs) are not inherently unethical business practices. Listed entities across industries engage in legitimate business transactions while adhering to the Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements (LODR) prescribed by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). However, not all companies comply with both the letter and spirit of the law, and some have been misusing or abusing RPTs to benefit certain executives, individuals, or entities connected to the promoter group.

Unique contributions of women are vital to India's maritime strength: Shri Shantanu Thakur

Launches flagship programmes—'Sagar Mein Yog' – Complete Wellness Programme" and 'Sagar Mein Samman'. Union Minister of State, Ministry of Ports, Shipping and Waterways, Shri Shantanu Thakur said that the unique contributions of women are vital to India's maritime strength and women seafarers embody resilience and excellence on the global stage. Launching officially the logos and themes of "Sagar Mein Yog – Complete Wellness Programme" and "Sagar Mein Samman", respectively at The Shipping Corporation of India (SCI), Mumbai. He pointing out that the initiative is crucial for ensuring that female seafarers, who often face distinct challenges while working far from home, are celebrated and supported.
